NEWS FROM OUR AREA

The Central Iowa Coin Club of Marshalltown reports their officers are as follows: Floyd E. Davis, President; Dale Burkheimer, Secretary; and Paul L. Graves, Treasurer. The Club has a show planned for Oct. 11-12.

Ames Coin Club reports 5 new Junior members. The Club met for a pot-luck dinner late in July, with a large group participating. A short auction was held and plans were discussed for the Coin-a Rama to be held in the Spring.

Cedar Rapids Coin Club held a Pot-luck picnic in July with over 60 in attendance. The August meeting featured a World Coin Quiz conducted by John Kelso. Bob Douglas prepared the September program of a question and answer quiz, dealing with the grading of minor U.S. coins.

Des Moines Coin Club held its annual Show on September 13-14, with a bourse of 35 dealers and several hundred people registering for door prizes. Sixteen exhibits were entered in a single field of competition. Dr. John Tilton of Bellevue won the Iowa Best of Show Award, with the Des Moines Club Best of Show going to Marjorie Owen. Other trophy winners include- Robert and Marilyn Douglas of Cedar Rapids, L. L. Owen of Adel, Mrs. John Tilton, Richard Hoidahl of Des Moines and Jacqueline Wildfang of Des Moines. Door prize winners were from Des Moines, Cedar Rapids, Mason City, Albert Lea, Minn. and California.

Keokuk Coin Club announces the purchase of a trailer for use in storing their Show equipment. This unit was financed by donations to the Club. The Fall Banquet is slated for Saturday evening, October 11, at Trinity Methodist Church in Montrose.

Forest City Coin Club, after a summer of a July picnic and a slow August meeting, had a discussion on building a bigger and better Club for '75-'76 at the September meeting. At the end of the meeting, refreshments were served by the Secretary, JoAnn Peters.

I.N.A. Board Meeting, October 4th at 2:00 pm, at the Convention in Cedar Rapids. It is important that all Board members be present.

Phillip Nelson, starting his 2nd term of office as Director of the INA for District 5, passed away suddenly, July 29, in Fort Dodge. He had been active in the Eagle Grove Coin Club and the Fort Dodge Coin Club since their beginning. He is missed by his numismatic friends.

INA Club Secretary, JoAnn Peters, is sharing news she received from Life Member, Hans Schulman. The letter was sent from Spain, where the Schulmans were residing at the time. Mr. Schulman states that he resigned from his firm and now has no connection, except for his shares. He plans to return to this country and act as an appraisal consultant. To those of you not familiar with the name, Schulman is a specialist in World Coins, especially those of the Low Countries. His firm was one of those connected with the sale of the King Farouk collection.

Editors note

We are hoping this edition will get to part of the membership before the Convention in Cedar Rapids. We do urge all members to attend and to participate. The General meeting will be held Saturday evening and, if you want your opinion to be heard, this is the time and place. The people in Cedar Rapids have been working long and hard to promote this annual event and we feel sure it will be a success.--- Our deep regrets on the passing of Phillip Nelson of Fort Dodge. It leaves a vacuum when we lose such a devoted hobbyist. ---Secretary JoAnn reports we now have 10 living Charter Members of our State organization and our list of Life members has grown to around 30. If you are interested in converting to a Life membership, contact Mr. Peters- she will be glad to explain the process to you. We are printing a section of a letter received from a Charter Member - hope this will be of interest to some of you. Mr. Lewis K. Ferguson became a life member of the INA in 1963, and states that he has missed only one meeting since joining the Club.- "I can well recall the first meeting of the proposed Iowa Numismatic Association in the Jefferson Hotel at Iowa City. There were but a handful of prospective members present. Two meetings were held each year- The Fall meeting seemed to kick off the season for collecting and the Spring meeting signaled the summer slowdown. One of the earliest memories I have of the Conventions was at Davenport, or maybe Burlington. B. Max Mehl, Stack and other such notables were present. J. Henri Ripstra attended most of the meetings.--- About ten years ago, I came to the conclusion that the coins I wanted were too far beyond my means; so I sold the collection. Among the residue that I couldn't sell were some trade tokens.

(Mr. Ferguson's book - TRADE TOKENS OF IOWA - may be purchased from him. His address is 1605 Roosevelt Ave., Ames 50010.) ---The collecting of any item sharpens the eye and the mind. You meet some very nice people and a few stinkers. Collecting makes the time pass faster and is very exciting when one finds something that has been very elusive." ---Our thanks to Mr. Ferguson on sharing his memories with us, Let's hear from some of the other "old timers".

The following little gem was sent by Doris Nelson of Ames ----

COIN COLLECTOR'S WIFE

Here's a saying that you all have heard before, I think.
"Water, water, everywhere, but not a drop to drink."
Shipwrecked people think about it, as they drift upon the sea,
And it brings teardrops to the eyes of guys like you and me.
It sure is bad, but the saddest cry I've heard in my whole life,
Is the one you hear when you lend an ear to the coin collector's wife.

"Money, money, everywhere, but not a dime to spend,
If this keeps up, our marriage is coming to an end.
Money in every dresser drawer and money on the shelf,
But there isn't one thin dime to spend upon myself.
Lincoln cents and Mercury dimes and Washington quarters, too,
Some of them are old and worn and some of them are new.
I even find them row on row in a pretty little book -
I wish my husband cared as much about the way I look.
The paycheck that he gets doesn't mean a thing to me
'Cause hubby needs a 1909-S Lincoln VDB.
As soon as he gets that coin, he'll be looking for some other;
I think I'd be better off if I went home to Mother.

One day, in desperation, I took a half dollar -
He said it was a commemorative; you should have heard him holler.
Another time I took a coin that he said was a proof,
When I told him I had spent it, I thought he'd raise the roof.
With all that money around the house, we're really very poor,
I'm getting sick and tired of it, of that I'm very sure,
So I advise you single girls, if you want a happy life,
Don't marry a coin collector and be a coin collector's wife,
Shouting, "Money, money, everywhere, and not a dime to spend"- Don't let a coin collector be more than just a friend."

(Our advice to this poor girl is join in the fun, get involved and find out just what a fascinating hobby coin collecting can be.)

MILITARY PAYMENT CERTIFICATES by Paul D. Lyons - I.N.A.#1353

Here is a challenge to the serious Numismatists as to what, in their viewpoint, constitutes the term of "currency".
One of the most interesting fields of collecting Numismatic material to come into its own today is the category of assembling Military Payment Certificates, (M.P.C.) and researching the history of this beautiful and historic form of United States currency. No other military currency has been used consistently for so many years. To some, this new field of M.P.C. collecting is new and without a doubt, there are collectors who don't know just what we mean by the term. I'm aware and am sure those who are exhibitors know the terminology for military currency in so much as the term applies, but what I'm talking about is a Military Currency that in some respects is more difficult to assemble than the Federal Reserve Notes. A collector can do it though, if not with all the denominations of series, but say they strive to secure one of several notes of a given series, possibly one note of each series.
When we think of U.S. Currency, our first impression is of our Federal Reserve notes or money of past years. This is true thinking to a certain degree, but doesn't hold up in a general sense. All dictionaries give a terminology and Webster's seventh edition states just what is the meaning for currency. Quote: "Often attributed to 1-A: circulation as a medium of exchange. 1-B: general use or

acceptance. 2-A: something that is in circulation as a medium of exchange, including coin, government notes and bank notes. 2-B: paper money in circulation."

Paper money collectors in the United States often disagree whether military payment certificates should be in the same class as U.S. currency or as occupation scrip. As to what any one person terms M.P.C. to be, is solely a matter of one's own knowledge of the subject.

With the clear understanding each of us has and what is meant by the accepted terminology of currency -- isn't this Military form of money truly currency? Its value is guaranteed by our Government at the United States bases overseas.

New trends of thought are somewhat elusive to comprehend, but to each one who received his wages in the Armed Forces during all the wars and occupation of countries where we were fighting and occupying since the end of World War II and up to November 19, 1973, in South Korea, Military Payment Certificates were hard earned currency. This type of money was very real currency in every sense and had buying power for all our Armed Forces in our overseas bases for service and material goods. M.P.C.'s were backed by our Government the same as our Federal Reserve Notes were, the only difference being that the Military currency was backed only at our bases overseas.

To tell a complete history of these meaningful currency notes would take miles of words, but this writer will in a small way, try to effectively enlighten and broaden your knowledge of this beautiful and meaningful form of United States currency of the military type.

Military Payment Certificates had their beginning on September 16, 1946 in overseas installations in Europe and September 29, 1946 in the Far East, and have been in use until just recently. Their purpose was threefold -- (1) - To protect our Country and the Host Nation in vital economic measures. Many G.I.'s, or Allied troops fighting with us, would cash in more money of the country than was paid to them as wages for service and this economically hurt the host country's monetary system. - (2) - M.P.C.'s were instituted to help keep the American dollar from falling into the enemy's coffers. - (3) - This type of Military Currency gave our Armed Forces a medium of exchange in the form of United States currency of the military type.

Our U.S. Government has used M.P.C.'s since 1946. After the conflict of a war would cease, and the country we were helping became economically sound, all military payment certificates then would be withdrawn. Our American Federal Reserve currency then could be used in these countries and our troops would receive their pay in U.S. money. Since World War II there have been 13 series of Military Payment Certificates in use at overseas installations. There were 9 series with 7 different denomination notes, 3 with 8 notes and also 1 series with 3 notes. The 9 series consisted of a 5¢ through the $10 note. The 3 series consisted of a 5¢ through the $20 note and the 1 series consisted of only the $1, $5, and the $10 M.P.C.

The 13 series of Military Payment Certificates are - No.s: 461, 471, 472, 481, 521, 541, 591, 611, 641, 651, 661, then 681 and the last M.P.C.s in use was the 692 series of notes.

The two major threats to the M.P.C. system were large counterfeit operations and leakage of large amounts of this currency into the local economy. In order to safeguard against these hazards, new series changes were made at irregular intervals on short notice. The end result of these switches left the hoarders and counterfeiters with stacks of worthless paper.

M.P.C.s were good only at the overseas installations and could be exchanged back to U.S. funds, up to a certain amount, upon the transfer of a serviceman to another area not using them, or, if that person was being discharged to return to civilian life.

U.S. funds were legal tender, if the hostilities had ceased and if the

Host government and our Representative b that country felt there was no need for Military Currency and that our Federal Reserve Notes and coins wouldn't hurt the economy of that country.

Our Military Currency in one form or another has been used dating back to our Civil War Period and possibly farther back than that.

Collecting these M.P.C.s is more of a challenge than any other United States currency, because many factors tend to make them much more scarce, such as although we might know the total printing of a series, we would not know how many were lost, redeemed or exchanged for the newer series that replaced it. As expected, the higher denominations are the most scarce, mainly due to the fact that most servicemen could not afford these M.P.C.s as souvenirs. Also, fewer notes of the higher denominations were printed.

Today, Military Payment Certificate collectors probably number in ten thousands. We are a modest group and welcome new members in a club with no dues, but we all extend a helping and knowledge of our hobby to others.

Like the Star Federal Reserve Notes, a replacement note would be printed for those that had imperfections. Replacement Military Notes had a prefix letter before the serial number, but no suffix letter.

In summary of my article, I mention to each of you who are serious Numismatists, the assembling of a complete set of Military Payment Certificates is a great challenge, and one you all would find exciting and rewarding. Some collectors go for the smaller denominations of 5¢ through the dollar series of notes. Their money outlay isn't so great. Others try for one note of each series; still others for complete series of sets.

This wonderful type of the Military series of United States Currency can be located. Of course the smaller denominations are more easily found, but the larger notes too can be collected, in time.

Defining this Currency with valuation gives heart to many of us Military Payment Certificate collectors. It is a historical type of currency and should be spoken of as United States currency and not just scrip or other titled words that are often applied to it.

We have used this type of Military money for 27 years and, like older issues of currency of the past, it also was retired after serving its intended purpose.

It is this writer's hope that there is some merit in the facts I've put forth, concerning Military Payment Certificates and their being recognized as United States Currency, but of the Military type.

It is with sincerity and conviction that I present this article to each of you, concerning a type of currency that will be recorded by historians as Military Money of great importance,--A currency that has dignity and a useful purpose in the History of our U.S. Government's goal and effort of helping oppressed Nations around the world. The men and women who were stationed overseas from the year 1946 and through the Korean War will long remember M.P.C. as a United States currency, with the monetary value to buy the services or material goods they were in need of.
